Florence, Siena, San Gimignano, Chianti, Tuscany, Rome, Pompei, Sorrento, and the Amalfi Coast

<https://www.florenceandbeyond.com/the-best-of-italy/>

Highlighting the very best of Italy, this tour has been designed for people with limited mobility in mind. While there are only three accommodation stops, staying in central Italy allows us to maximize the number of places that we can visit, creating an itinerary that is both varied and comprehensive. Our private transfers and transport will bring us from door-to-door, limiting the amount of walking that has to be done. Our local tour guides will be selected to ensure that we tour at our own pace. And in bigger cities we will make the best use of our time by using eco-friendly transport methods.

Italy is undoubtedly rich with culture and history and this will not be neglected. Our tour will be split between exploring the extraordinary historic, art, and architectural sights with experiencing in a more hands on way where our famous foods come from and how they are made. There will be breathtaking scenery as we travel through some of Italy's most iconic landscapes and adorable townships that hark back to Italy's illustrious past.

YOUR ORGANIZER AND TOUR LEADER

Australian living long-term in Florence.

I arrived in Florence in 2001, supposedly on a one year sabbatical from my corporate career back in Australia. Back then very few people in the city spoke English. Once I realized that I was staying, my first priority was to learn the language and then I set about carving out a life and a career for myself. Since 2004 I have worked with international tourists of all ages, creating itineraries and taking groups on tours.

Other than organizing tours, I currently work creating food and wine experiences in Florence. Many people ask me if I am a sommelier, although I have done and continue to do wine courses I prefer to describe myself as food and wine curious. I love tasting wine, talking about wine, and discussing with my guests what they like about wine.

The food and wine in Italy has such a long and rich history which is intrinsically connected to culture and society. Everything you eat or drink tells a story about the place that it comes from.

In my free time I still love to travel and discover new places. In my home time, I am a mum to four cats, I anxiously await the Italian release of the next season of Criminal Minds, and I read books about Florence's food history.

If you have any questions about the tour, please feel free to reach out by email info@florenceandbeyond.com or by Whatsapp call/message +393287290848

Florence and Beyond is an independent travel agency licensed and registered in Florence. In Italy we not only have to have special qualifications and experience to open a travel agency but we are required to have two types of insurance; one for insolvency or bankruptcy of the agency and one covering any potential damages to third parties. This ensures that travel agents uphold their responsibilities to their clients and the quality of their work and at the same time provides an extra level of security for the customer.

The travel industry in Italy is highly regulated. There are many people operating without these qualifications. Tours organized by Florence and Beyond will only involve collaborators and third parties, such as local tour guides, that have the appropriate licenses and authority to do so.

Florence and Beyond does not organize or book flights, international or local. Please carefully read the terms and conditions outlined by the airline when booking your travel between the United States and Italy. Florence and beyond cannot and will not take responsibility for cancellations, delays, lost baggage or other issues that arise directly from or are the responsibility of the airline.

Please pay special attention to the terms and conditions of your tour including the cancellation policy.

The cancellation policy is put in place to protect both parties. It exists to cover any non-refundable expenses incurred by Florence and Beyond on your behalf. I highly recommend covering unforeseeable events by purchasing a travel insurance policy. Note that you should purchase your travel policy at the time of booking or the very least when you pay the final balance of your tour. Travel insurance should cover costs in the event that at the last minute you have to cancel your tour. Every travel insurance policy is different and most have a copay fee on claims.

CANCELLATIONS & TERMS AND CONDITIONS

It is important to understand that tourism in Italy has relaunched at or above the pre-pandemic capacity. We are required to reserve earlier than in previous years, not only to ensure availability but also to contain prices as much as possible. As such our booking and cancellation lead times are now longer than usual. In many cases we will be required to make not refundable payments in full well before your arrival in Italy.

This trip is subject to a minimum number of participants. If the minimum number of participants is not reached 100 days before departure, we reserve the right to cancel the trip. If this happens, any participant who has already registered and paid the trip deposit, or paid in full, will be fully refunded.

To register for the program and secure your spot, there is a 1500 USD deposit due by March 31st, 2023. The balance payment is due by June 30th, 2023.

We reserve the right in our sole discretion to accept, decline, or remove anyone from a trip (at or prior to departure or during the trip) if we deem their continuation of the trip to be harmful or dangerous to themselves or other trip participants.

If for some reason you need to cancel your trip, a cancellation will only be effective when we receive written confirmation of the cancellation from you by email at info@florenceandbeyond.com. Cancellation by any other means, including phone call or messaging services, are not considered by us and do not constitute a cancellation. If you cancel your trip, you will be responsible for the below amounts based on the date we receive your written confirmation of cancellation.

- 90 days or more prior to departure, full refund minus non-refundable bank transaction fees and taxes (approximately 5% ).
- 89 – 31 days prior to departure, full refund minus the deposit.
- 30 – 16 days before departure, 50% of the trip is refunded. The rest is non-refundable.
- 15 days or less prior to departure NO REFUND.

No refund is due if a traveler fails to join a trip, joins it after departure, or leaves it prior to its completion for any reason. There will be no refunds for unused services after a trip has commenced.

There are no exceptions to this cancellation and refund policy, including for reasons related to weather, terrorism, civil strife, airline default, strikes, personal, family, or medical emergencies or any other circumstances beyond our control. This means that even if you cancel because of medical issues, virus, sickness, quarantine, travel restrictions/warnings, fear of traveling or any other reason, your booking will be subject to this cancellation and refund policy. This is why we strongly suggest that you secure travel insurance in order to participate on a trip.

HEALTH and COVID: You must abide by any airport, airline, and /or immigration policies and procedures from both the United States and Italy (or your home country) regarding Covid-19 in place at the time of departure. This may include being fully vaccinated, wearing a mask on flights or in tourist locations in Italy. Participants are responsible for checking rules prior to departure.

We highly recommend purchasing travel insurance at the time of booking. Travel insurance policies can cover not only medical expenses in country but also expenses associated with cancellation in the event of illness or other unforeseen eventualities.

You must carry a valid passport and have obtained all of the required visas, permits, certificates, proof of vaccinations, and other travel documentation for all the countries in which you will visit during your trip. Your passport must be valid for 6 months beyond the duration of the trip. It is your responsibility to ensure that you satisfy all entry requirements and that you are in possession of the correct visas, permits and certificates for your trip and that all of the information on those documents are accurate. We are not responsible if you are refused entry to a country because you lack the correct passport, visa or other travel documentation.

Participants should check with consulates for the latest health requirements. Participants must bring their own medications, insect repellent or other recommended prescribed drugs, including but not limited to allergy medication (e.g., EpiPen).
